Personal Information Utilization Notification and Agreement

National Chengchi University Library

National Chengchi University Library (hereinafter referred to as the library) has long been committed to quality and efficient services. While management and utilization of the reader's personal information is one of the most significant parts of the service procedures, the reader is earnestly invited to maintain timely updated data. To access the data, the library will comply with the Personal Information Protection Act (PIPA) of the Republic of China. This agreement will benefit both parties regarding the library operations. Please read the following carefully, tick the box at the bottom, and then sign and date the agreement afterwards.

- (I) Situations that the reader's data is collected, used or processed by the library:
- (a) The Library will collect, use or process the reader's data in compliance with the terms of PIPA, other relevant laws and regulations.
 - (b) The library is operated in accordance with the Library Act, which sanctions different businesses like resource allocation, promotion service and statistics processing. All of them involve utilization of the reader's personal information such as name, identification number (or ARC/passport numbers), gender type, birth date, contact information (including telephone number, e-mail address, residence address) and work information. Many services will not be available to the reader until an individually signed agreement is filed.
 - (c) The library will legitimately utilize the reader's information during the terms of the businesses mentioned above. The region where it is utilized will be restricted to the island of Taiwan.
- (II) Personal information maintenance and right exercise by the reader:
- (a) According to PIPA, the reader is entitled to the following requests regarding his/her own personal information:
 - 1. to inquire or review
 - 2. to duplicate
 - 3. to modify or correct
 - 4. to cease collection, processing and utilization by the library
 - 5. to deleteAny readers who would like to exercise any rights listed above may contact the Circulation Section. However, the request may be rejected if it contradicts library necessary operations.
 - (b) Any modifications to the agreement will be posted on the Library's webpage. If they involve changes to how the reader's information (including the range of the data, the purpose and region of utilization) will be utilized, further perusal and individual signature from the reader will be processed accordingly.
